Volunteers wanted

Do you work with biological data or use biological computer programs / websites?

We're running a study investigating the way people from different computational and biological backgrounds create mental models of biological data.

How long?

Participants are asked to spend 30 minutes to an hour (maximum) participating in a semi-structured interview, which will be recorded.

Who?

We're looking for people who work with genomic and proteomic data, from any and all of these backgrounds:

- wet lab background,
- bioinformaticians
- research software engineering background who work in a biological domain
- anyone who fits somewhere in between

How do I volunteer?

Anyone who is interested should contact Yo Yehudi at:
